EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
STATE OF NEW JERSEY
TRENTON

This year New Jersey will welcome within her borders, millions of tourists from our sister states and many foreign countries.

For nearly all of these visitors, on their way to the World's Fair, New Jersey highways will serve as a portion of a route that will carry them from their homes to "The World of Tomorrow".

On behalf of the people of New Jersey, I wish to extend to these visitors, and to all other motorists, a most cordial welcome, and invite them to visit our seashores, our lakes and mountains, and our historic shrines, all of which they will find readily accessible by means of our fine system of safe, modern roads.

We, in New Jersey, are justly proud of this comprehensive network of highways which were designed and built to meet the demands of America s greatest traffic. Our geographical location, between two of the world's largest centers of population, wealth, commerce and industry, has given our highway designers difficult problems to solve—problems with which engineers in no other state have been confronted.

How successfully we have met this challenge is evidenced by the recent honor conferred upon our state by the National Safety Council which designated New Jersey as the winner of the Grand Award for highway safety for the year of 1938.

It is my sincere hope that our visitors, while enjoying themselves to their heart's content, will cooperate in helping us maintain this splendid record for safety by exercising ordinary care while using New Jersey highways, and when departing, pleasant thoughts of the Garden State will linger long in their memories and speed their early return.

A. HARRY MOORE,

Governor of New Jersey.

Industry and Agriculture

Although but forty-fifth in area, New Jersey ranks sixth in industry and is a leader in many forms of agricultural development. Proximity to the great metropolitan centers of New York and Philadelphia, America's first and third largest cities, affords New Jersey farmers and manufacturers unequalled opportunity of reaching consumer markets. This high position among the states has been made possible by the nation's finest system of safe and modern highways which makes these markets readily accessible from all parts of the State.

Seashore and Mountains

New Jersey's famous seashore resorts have long been recognized as America's favorite vacation-land. Over one hundred miles of sun-bathed beaches annually invite millions of visitors to enjoy the advantages of fine hotels, ocean salt water bathing, deep-sea and big game fishing and the many other features of a seashore vacation.

For those who prefer the charms of leafy glades and crystal lakes, a comprehensive system of state parks has been developed. Here the picnicker, the hiker, the angler, the bather, and the nature-lover may find relaxation in the unspoiled mountain regions of northern New Jersey.

Historic Shrines

New Jersey, one of the original thirteen colonies, is rich in Revolutionary history and tradition and is literally dotted with historic shrines. During the War of Independence General George Washington spent more of his time here than in any other single state. The battle of Trenton, on the historic Delaware River, and the battles of Princeton and Monmouth made American history and it was in New Jersey that the Stars and Stripes were first flown over the Continental Army. Other places of interest are associated with the names of many who won fame in politics, commerce and the cultural development of the United States.

Modern Highways

New Jersey's system of modern highways is recognized as the finest in the world. Here everything possible has been done to build safety into the roads, thus minimizing the human factor as a cause of accidents. Mile upon mile of divided roadways, scientifically designed grade separations and traffic circles, great viaducts, imposing bridges, reflecting curbs, highway illumination, traffic lights, modern directionary and cautionary signs and beautification of roadside areas each contributes toward making New Jersey a motorist's paradise.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
TRENTON

This year New Jersey will welcome within her borders, millions of tourists from our sister states and many foreign countries.

For nearly all of these visitors, on their way to the World's Fair, New Jersey highways will serve as a portion of a route that will carry them from their homes to "The World of Tomorrow".

On behalf of the people of New Jersey, I wish to extend to these visitors, and to all other motorists, a most cordial welcome, and invite them to visit our seashores, our lakes and mountains, and our historic shrines, all of which they will find readily accessible by means of our fine system of safe, modern roads.

We, in New Jersey, are justly proud of this comprehensive network of highways which were designed and built to meet the demands of America's greatest traffic. Our geographical location, between two of the world's largest centers of population, wealth, commerce and industry, has given our highway designers difficult problems to solve—problems with which engineers in no other state have been confronted.

How successfully we have met this challenge is evidenced by the recent honor conferred upon our state by the National Safety Council which designated New Jersey as the winner of the Grand Award for highway safety for the year of 1938.

It is my sincere hope that our visitors, while enjoying themselves to their heart's content, will cooperate in helping us maintain this splendid record for safety by exercising ordinary care while using New Jersey highways, and when departing, pleasant thoughts of the Garden State will linger long in their memories and speed their early return.

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor of New Jersey.

Industry and Agriculture

Although but forty-fifth in area, New Jersey ranks sixth in industry and is a leader in many forms of agricultural development. Proximity to the great metropolitan centers of New York and Philadelphia, America's first and third largest cities, affords New Jersey farmers and manufacturers unequalled opportunity of reaching consumer markets. This high position among the states has been made possible by the nation's finest system of safe and modern highways which makes these markets readily accessible from all parts of the State.

Seashore and Mountains

New Jersey's famous seashore resorts have long been recognized as America's favorite vacation-land. Over one hundred miles of sun-bathed beaches annually invite millions of visitors to enjoy the advantages of fine hotels, ocean salt water bathing, deep-sea and big game fishing and the many other features of a seashore vacation.

For those who prefer the charms of leafy glades and crystal lakes, a comprehensive system of state parks has been developed. Here the picnicker, the hiker, the angler, the bather, and the nature-lover may find relaxation in the unspoiled mountain regions of northern New Jersey.

Historic Shrines

New Jersey, one of the original thirteen colonies, is rich in Revolutionary history and tradition and is literally dotted with historic shrines. During the War of Independence General George Washington spent more of his time here than in any other single state. The battle of Trenton, on the historic Delaware River, and the battles of Princeton and Monmouth made American history and it was in New Jersey that the Stars and Stripes were first flown over the Continental Army. Other places of interest are associated with the names of many who won fame in politics, commerce and the cultural development of the United States.

Modern Highways

New Jersey's system of modern highways is recognized as the finest in the world. Here everything possible has been done to build safety into the roads, thus minimizing the human factor as a cause of accidents. Mile upon mile of divided roadways, scientifically designed grade separations and traffic circles, great viaducts, imposing bridges, reflecting curbs, highway illumination, traffic lights, modern directionary and cautionary signs and beautification of roadside areas each contributes toward making New Jersey a motorist's paradise.
